Pages: 2
Subject: Addendum 1 to the AAI AM13604 Navigating Opportunities through Risk Management in Development Planning: Strengthening Resilience amidst Global Dynamics Short Course Request for Tender of 21 May 2026

Tenderers are advised of the following:

This addendum is openly available to all registered tenderers.

Revision to the learning objectives (RFT SoS 4.2):

Please remove the following learning objective: Integrate cross-cutting issues like Climate Change and GEDSI into risk management approaches

Please replace this learning objective:

Collaborate and manage across government (including from national to subnational) in implementing national risk management frameworks (or equivalents)

With this:

Collaborate and manage cross-cutting issues (like Climate Change and GEDSI) across government (including from national to subnational) in implementing national risk management frameworks (or equivalents)

Please see the revised learning objectives on the next page:

The course will focus on the following learning objectives – the course will equip the participants to:
• Build and implement risk management systems for effective development programs, including integrating strategic foresight, planning for flexibility and adaptation to evolving global circumstances
• Understand Australia's approach to risk management in the development policy and planning lifecycle
• Apply a range of risk management approaches, tools and processes to development planning, policy formulation and program delivery, including its monitoring and evaluation
• Collaborate and manage cross-cutting issues (like Climate Change and GEDSI) across government (including from national to subnational) in implementing national risk management frameworks (or equivalents)
• Draw on and demonstrate understanding of lessons from Pacific contexts for risk management and uncertainty in development planning
• Use strategic communication as part of risk management to report on results/impacts to different audiences in meaningful ways
• Build and strengthen institutional networks between Australian, Indonesian and Pacific experts and organisations for partnerships and future collaboration
• Develop action plans (Award Project) to apply course learnings in their work and disseminate ideas

All other information as set out in the RFT dated 21 May 2026 remains unchanged.
